1. Overview

You should complete this form if you are applying for a community digital sound programme licence (“C-DSP”). You can find further information about C-DSP services in the guidance notes for licensees and applicants.

This application form is divided into two parts – Part A (which we will publish on our website) and Part B (which will be kept confidential). This document constitutes Part A; Part B of the application form is available on our website.

If you encounter any issues using these forms, please contact broadcast.licensing@ofcom.org.uk.

The purpose of this form

- 1.1 You should complete this form if you are applying for a Community Digital Sound Programme (C-DSP) licence.
- 1.2 A digital sound programme service intended for broadcast by means of a local or small-scale radio multiplex service requires either a C-DSP licence or a local DSP licence. Ofcom’s published guidance notes set out some of the key issues that potential applicants need to consider in deciding which type of licence is suitable for them. In summary, C-DSP services are not run for financial gain and are required to provide social gain. C-DSP licences therefore include strict conditions to ensure that happens, and provide less flexibility than a local DSP licence. However, they do provide access to capacity that small-scale radio multiplex service providers are required to reserve solely for C-DSP services.
- 1.3 A C-DSP licence will be required even if the same programme service is also provided on any other platforms (e.g. FM, satellite), as separate licences are required for those.
- 1.4 As noted above, small-scale radio multiplex services will have reserved capacity for C-DSP services. Issue of a C-DSP licence does not, however, guarantee carriage on a small-scale (or local) radio multiplex service. That is a matter for agreement between the C-DSP licensee and the multiplex service provider, and there may be more C-DSP licences issued in a locality than there are reserved slots on the small-scale radio multiplex service. Note that a C-DSP service does not necessarily have to broadcast using reserved capacity. It can use unreserved capacity on a small-scale radio multiplex service or capacity on a local radio multiplex service, again subject to agreement with the multiplex service provider.
- 1.5 An application for a C-DSP licence will be accepted only once Ofcom has advertised the licence for the small-scale radio multiplex service upon which the proposed C-DSP service is intended to be provided. There is no closing-date by which an application for a C-DSP licence must be submitted (i.e. it can be submitted at any time after the licence for the relevant small-scale radio multiplex licence has been advertised).
- 1.6 You can find further information about how to determine if a service requires a C-DSP licence in Section 2 of the guidance notes for applicants and licensees.

Provision of information

- 1.7 Ofcom requires complete and accurate information to assess applications. This is so that we can assess your application against statutory criteria, consider whether those involved in the body applying for a licence are 'fit and proper' to hold a licence, and determine whether their involvement with other organisations disqualifies them from participation in a licence.
- 1.8 It is an offence under the Broadcasting Act 1996 (as amended) to provide false information or withhold relevant information during the application process, and may be grounds for revocation of a licence subsequently granted.

Publication of information about applications and licensed services

- 1.9 Information provided in Part A of the application form will typically be published by Ofcom in our Monthly Radio Update publication the month following the submission of your application. This may take longer if the application is received late in the month. Information provided in Part B will not be published.
- 1.10 In submitting this application you agree that, should a licence be granted, Ofcom may publish contact details for the licensee (specified in Section 2 of Part B of the application form), which may include personal data, on the Ofcom website and/or in other relevant publications. If you have any questions about the information that we publish, or there are any changes to this information, you should contact the Broadcast Licensing team by email (broadcast.licensing@ofcom.org.uk).
- 1.11 Ofcom considers issued C-DSP licences to be public documents and copies of licences will be made available to third parties on request albeit, other than the Key Commitments which are tailored to the service, C-DSP licences are standard form documents. A brief description of the licensed service will be published on the Ofcom website, along with the Key Commitments which form part of the licence.
- 1.12 Ofcom publishes a monthly radio licensing update which lists new services licensed, new applications, licences revoked, licence transfers, and changes to licensed services during the past month.

Data protection

- 1.13 We require the information requested in this form in order to carry out our licensing duties under the Broadcasting Act 1990, Broadcasting Act 1996 and Communications Act 2003. Please see Ofcom's General Privacy Statement for further information about how Ofcom handles your personal information and your corresponding rights.

Keeping up to date with broadcasting matters

- 1.14 We strongly recommend that the appropriate person at the applicant body signs up to receive Ofcom's regular email updates on broadcasting matters including notification when the Broadcast and On Demand Bulletin is published.
- 1.15 To sign up to receive these communications, you must visit the email updates area of our website and select 'Broadcasting.'

2. Applicant's details

About this section

In this section we are asking you for details about the applicant company. This must be a body corporate which is not profit distributing.

It also asks questions which are relevant to our assessment of the applicant's fitness and properness to hold a C-DSP licence.

The response boxes and tables should be expanded or repeated where necessary, or provided in a separate annex.

'Officerships' in this section refers to: directorships of bodies corporate, designated memberships of LLPs, or membership of a governing body of an unincorporated association (including partnerships).

3. The proposed service

About this section

This section asks you to describe your proposed service, including the Key Commitments you propose to include in your licence. This includes your service name, multiplex name and character of service, in addition to standard commitments that all C-DSP licensees need to abide by. Holders of an existing analogue community radio licence to be a simulcast on the proposed C-DSP service can replicate the existing analogue key commitments as it is our expectation that the key commitments for simulcast services are to be in keeping with one another. If a licence is granted, the information you provide in this section will be used to form the basis of the annex to your licence. You will only be authorised to broadcast what is detailed in the annex of the licence.

In this section, you will also need to set out how your service will provide social gain, community participation and how you will be accountable to the target community. This is in line with statutory requirements for the granting of C-DSP licences. The information provided in this section is also the basis on which decisions are made.

If you hold, or intend to hold, multiple C-DSP licences, the answers given in this section and the intended delivery of your Key Commitments must apply to the locality in which your proposed service will broadcast (as set out in the Draft Key Commitments in this application form).

Our organisation provides a platform for local community groups, churches, choir groups, musicians, artists charity groups and societies to promote their events and organisations through us both on air, our website and on social media. We are also keen to get involved with community events and providing inspirational entertainment.

As a community organisation we specialise in promoting & supporting the well being, welfare & skills development of BAME families in Edinburgh. We support unique, upcoming talent across Edinburgh, and Scotland. We have organised various events in Edinburgh and have programmes that dedicate airtime for each musician, creative, author, poet or whatever their talent maybe to be heard.

In 2018, we organised a talent competition titled Nu Soundz at The Assembly Rooms in Edinburgh during our annual concert tagged "Engage", giving upcoming artist the opportunity to showcase their talent event and win a record deal.

We are located in the heart of Edinburgh and therefore we are happy to support local churches, charities, musicians, choirs, artistes, businesses, community groups and the local authorities getting their message across to our listeners.

- 3.8 Please summarise how your service will facilitate discussion and the expression of opinion.
Answer in fewer than 200 words.

All of our shows are presented in a non-biased way and offer listeners various ways to interact and get involved in discussions & shows. We also have regular studio guests from the community who get the chance to promote their own services on air.

We currently have facilities where the presenters engage with their listeners whether it be over the phone, social media or email. All presenters will adhere to Ofcom policy and remain non-biased throughout any discussions on live radio.

- 3.9 How will you ensure that members of your target community(ies) can gain access to the facilities used to provide your service, and receive training in using these? In particular, please set out how this will be done practically, formally and/or informally. Answer in fewer than 400 words.

As a community organisation anyone can apply to join us and will be offered extensive training on all of the broadcasting equipment as well as the opportunity to sit in on existing shows to see how it all works and have the chance to speak with current members.

Listeners currently can interact with us on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram and we are very active on those platforms, they can listen to us as their local station via our website, mobile app and Smart Speakers. We also offer a free podcasting service where all our live production from our studios are then aired on platforms such as iTunes, Spotify.

- 3.10 How will your service provide better understanding of your target community and the strengthening of links within it? Answer in fewer than 200 words.

We want to take part in as many community activities whether it be working with local artists, choir groups, musicians, churches, local authorities, community groups, business, or charities, so no matter how big or small an event is, we want to know about it. Any author, artist, business, choir, church, or community group looking to launch a product or event can contact us for promotional packages and we have the equipment and trained presenters available to provide live promotion on site with music. We can also offer tailored packages for example we have launched a package where churches, artistes, choir groups can have their own advert, logo on our website and social media. By doing this we support local groups as well as grow our own audience in the community.

- 3.11 Please summarize the relevant experience of the group or its members in activities related to the provision of social gain or other relevant non-broadcast areas (such as third sector, training or education). Answer in fewer than 200 words.

We have members and volunteers whose profession is to coach and train and already working with the community. They are comfortable in analysing linguistic and practical techniques in order to enhance the customer/listener's experience with us.

Participation

How do you propose to ensure that members of your target community(ies) are given opportunities to participate in the operation and management of the service? Answer in fewer than 400 words.

HEARTSONG LIVE RADIO is always looking for new members to participate on our team. Once our license is granted then it will be a big incentive for local colleges who want to work with us, or university's or upcoming/potential management to join us. Going forward as we grow there will be more opportunities to take out subsidiary roles for example events manager/quality control. This will be offered to those who show loyalty, willingness and to those who use their privileged position as a presenter to help the local community

The station is provided to the local community and is entirely reliant on volunteers to operate. We broadcast 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Our core aims are:

- To be a source of hope, encouragement & inspiration in an engaging way
- To provide a voice for local individuals, community, artistes, musicians, churches, charities, organisations, and good causes
- To give a platform to local upcoming performers and artists
- To provide volunteering opportunities which encourage workplace and life skills for diverse communities across the area.

We value equality, diversity and inclusion, encouraging people from all backgrounds to get involved with the station. We are developing links with local colleges and schools to involve young people in the station.

We provide high-quality, cost-free education projects and training, focusing on creative media production as well as key social and employment skills to the local community.

The station offers radio training and podcast training as a route to gaining confidence and improving communications skills for the younger unemployed people locally across Edinburgh and its surroundings. We welcome those considered as marginalised to inspire them to discover and maximise their potentials and increase their self-confidence.

We intend to undertake outside broadcasts across the transmission area which will highlight our commitment to Edinburgh and showcase the fact that we are run by, and require, volunteers. Some of these broadcasts will take place from local events, churches, charities, and local good causes, giving them a voice and a platform to a greater audience.

Accountability

- 3.12 How will members of your target community contact your service and influence its operation? Answer in fewer than 300 words.

The service is provided to the community and is reliant on volunteers to support the organisation and provide its broadcast services. Volunteering will continue to be open to all individuals from across Edinburgh and surroundings. Subject to satisfactory completion of standard volunteer recruitment checks, induction processes and appropriate training to meet their role.

A large variety of roles will be open to members of the target community (and others), including on air presentation, production, programme scheduling, journalism, fundraising, engineering and technical, administration, finance, and promotion.

Heartsong Live already benefits from the experience and knowledge of our existing 20+ volunteers and we expect that this number will increase should a CDSP radio licence be granted. There will also be opportunities to be part of the management team of the station for volunteers with the relevant skills that match with the job descriptions of the management roles.

The station also intends to actively encourage other organisations to get involved in its programming, whether as volunteers for the station or simply as guests on programmes.

We intend to promote getting involved with us via a number of platforms such as our website www.heartsonglive.co.uk and through social media channels such as; Facebook, Twitter and Instagram. Volunteer roles provide opportunities for members to develop technical skills and experience, build confidence and improve interpersonal skills, enhance skills in management, customer services and communication. We will also run regular volunteer with us adverts on-air as well as working with local volunteering organisations and churches serving the residents of Edinburgh and beyond with a varied programme of live performance, cinema, visual arts and projects for children and young people.

We aim to facilitate interested youth groups to attend 'Open Mic Sessions' where they can get to see how our station works and become a presenter on a show. Similarly, as we develop our relationships with 'Hard to Reach' groups we will offer the opportunity to be involved in the creation of programmes specific to each group, particularly as they will have expert knowledge related to their individual position within the community.

We are available for contact pretty much 24/7 via our studio phone lines/text or on our social media platforms such as Facebook, Instagram and Twitter. We also have a messaging service and ways to interact on our website. Members of the public and the local community in Edinburgh and Scotland generally will be invited to give feedback at our open day once a year. The open day will consist of all the upcoming and future plans of the station as we develop. We will also send out surveys into the community asking them to provide feedback on our service. This may be done physically or online, the website or via social media.

- 3.13 How will suggestions and/or criticisms from members of your target community(ies) be considered and acted upon? Answer in fewer than 300 words.

All comments are gratefully received no matter what they are as the enjoyment of the listeners is why we do what we do.

Any complaints will be discussed by the board of trustees and relevant steps taken to solve any issues arising as soon as possible.

All comments made by our target audience will be discussed at our recorded monthly meetings and we shall post the outcome of the discussed point on our social media page

Draft Key Commitments

Below is an example of the licence annex where the Key Commitments appear. Should a licence be awarded, the entries you provide below will form the Key Commitments section of your licence. As such, applicants may refer to the existing key commitments of the relevant simulcast or corresponding service(s) to ensure that the draft below is in line with those of the existing service(s).

Please provide entries where specified in BOLD below. The information you enter here should reflect your answers to Sections 3 and 4 of the Part A of your completed Application Form. This will form the basis of your Key Commitments alongside the mandatory text in italics. 4. Compliance of the service

About this section

This section asks you to describe the compliance arrangements for the proposed licensed service, i.e. the arrangements which the applicant will put in place to ensure that the content it proposes to broadcast will comply with the relevant regulatory codes and rules for programming and advertising. These include:

- The Ofcom Broadcasting Code
- The BCAP Code: the UK Code of Broadcast Advertising
- The Phone-paid Services Authority Code of Practice

Condition 17 of a C-DSP licence requires that you have compliance procedures in place, and this section asks that you demonstrate your ability to meet this licence condition.

Before completing this section of the form you should read Section 4 of the C-DSP guidance notes, where you will also find links to the codes and rules listed above.

- 4.1 Please give details of all compliance training (including dates) the person named in response to either question 2.3 or 2.5 in Part B (i.e. the individual who holds overall responsibility for compliance of the service) has received in the relevant codes and rules (for example, those referred to in the box at the start of this section).

Eloho Efemuai, Ighofimini Emeseh, & Ola Olaleye Directors of The Adelphe Community Outreach will have access to these documents and will impart to our members about the content. Eloho has over 6 years of broadcasting experience and understands Ofcom's broadcast code and key commitments from previous community radio station involvement.

Individuals wishing to participate with us will need to understand Ofcom's broadcast codes and key commitments, this will be made visible to all volunteers participating within the station. Other trustees and future managers will be trained on relevant points of these documents also. Eloho holds a digital marketing degree and received training on Ofcom broadcasting and compliance training in 2017, she's also trained in media studies as well as other members of the trustees' team who will assist the organisation in these areas.

- 4.2 Please give details of any practical compliance experience (including dates) the person named in response to either question 2.3 or 2.5 in Part B (i.e the individual who holds overall responsibility for compliance of the service) has with respect to the relevant codes and rules.

The Station Manager founded the station in 2017. She is the designated Relevant Person. She has over 6 years of experience in a variety of roles gained from organising huge gospel concerts in Aberdeen & Edinburgh Scotland, studying a master's degree in digital marketing, volunteering in local gospel radio stations in Aberdeen and media houses. In that time, she has developed a thorough knowledge of OFCOM regulations, law as it applies to broadcasters and the day-to-day management of a community radio station. The Relevant Person has assembled a core team of experienced volunteers who assist her with the strategic and day to day management of the radio station. Their specific expertise is in radio programming, digital marketing, strategic planning, media law, OFCOM regulations and technical support. She is experienced in training and managing teams of volunteers, giving particular attention to compliance and legal issues as they relate to broadcasting. She also has a wide technical knowledge and is able to maintain and update the broadcast and IT systems. The station manager has media qualifications where she gained the knowledge and experience to enable her to run a community radio station. This was completed in 2017 and is relevant to the newly CDSP license. Even though Heartsong Live Radio is not currently an Ofcom licenced station, our training incorporates their core principles.

These include:

- Ofcom regulations and how they affect our station
- Retention of recordings broadcast for 42 days
- Programme content - specifically offensive language, religion, taste and decency etc.
- Annual licence fees (PRS & PPL)
- Complaint handling • Advertising and Promotion
- Election rules for broadcasters
- Obituary and major story procedures

They will ensure that station output complies with the policy guidelines agreed with this our community radio policies and are in line with the relevant Ofcom Broadcasting code of conduct

The finance manager will work alongside the stations directors to make sure that the finances are correctly managed.

- 4.4 How does the applicant intend to formally train staff in compliance procedures? Please include details of the compliance training that will be given to those responsible for live programming, including compliance staff, presenters and producers.

All of our staff members will be trained to a standard that is suitable for broadcasting on HEARTSONG LIVE RADIO. Copies of The Broadcasting Code will be available for presenters to digest. We can also provide online copy of the broadcasting code. At the moment due to funding cuts, we carry out buddying sessions whereby all the presenters are given a task to listen into other presenter's shows and provide feedback to ensure that all compliance aspects are followed. We will provide annual refreshers at one of our monthly meetings which are recorded and go through any updated compliance aspects that Ofcom have released.

New presenters will be given the tools and all available methods to access the Ofcom regulations and policies. All volunteers must undergo a formal application process, which includes:

- Completion of an application form,
- An interview
- References from at least two previous employers
- A DBS check to ensure we are recruiting suitable people to work with us and in the community to which we serve

The management team identify training needs bespoke to each volunteer, as they are drawn from a wide range of backgrounds and communities.

However, there is a core training programme which all volunteers must undertake before being able to broadcast or create content for our social media channels.

They must read and agree to the station handbook which contains compliance information as it relates to broadcasting. This has been written by the Station Manager and draws upon her wealth of experience in the broadcasting sector. This document is covered during training for new members, and it is available to all presenters via the presenter's portal on the station website and is always in the studio.

The Broadcast Code is also covered during training and a link to the Ofcom website is available at the station's presenter's portal on the station's website.

All volunteers will be provided with induction training and all the necessary training for the relevant roles within Heartsong Live Radio.

This training will be led by the management team and some of the station's more experienced volunteers. Any roles that are related to on-air work, volunteers will be trained in: our studio equipment, general presentation and interviewing skills and mentored by an experienced broadcast journalist.

The timescale of training depends on each individual volunteer and their outside commitments, but we expect most new volunteers to complete their training within 3 - 4 weeks.

There is on-going monitoring of shows plus on-going training in-house with a minimum of 2 presenters refresher sessions each year.

We also have several training resources available to download that any of our presenters can download from the presenter's portal on the station's website.

For programmes and features produced by outside sources e.g. syndicated shows, the programmes will come from presenters who are fully aware of their responsibilities and the shows will be monitored to make sure of compliance.

- 4.5 Will the training described in response to question 4.5 be mandatory for all staff and volunteers? If not, outline who will receive it.

YES

- 4.6 It is a licence requirement that a licensee must ensure that all programming on its service (broadcast at any time of the day or night) complies with Ofcom's codes and rules (e.g. Ofcom's Broadcasting Code, which sets requirements on standards to be observed in programme content for the protection of the public).

- a) Set out in detail below the systems the applicant intends to have in place to ensure it will be able to comply with the codes and rules when the service is broadcasting live content. Your response should include details of what you will do to prepare presenters and guests pre-broadcast and the process for ensuring that any non-complaint content is dealt with swiftly during the broadcast.

The programme manager is responsible for ensuring that programming commitments are being kept to and will keep ongoing records of what the station has done to fulfil its commitments.

Heartsong Live already keeps a count of what songs are being played this is a small text file which is recorded hourly for monitoring and training purposes.

All shows / programme log sheets in either computer and / or paper copies are kept for archive purposes. All our audio is logged onto our systems and is retained for achieved purposes.

We will keep records of all programmes broadcast on our service and then retained for archive purposes. News stories about our programming will also be published on our website and social media and be retained as part of the website archive to demonstrate how we have fulfilled our commitment to the community.

We will actively discuss with 'Hard to Reach' groups we will ask community leaders and responsible persons what type of music they would like integrated within their programmes.

The management team is fully briefed on the content of Ofcom's broadcasting code, and it is a core part of the training which all volunteers must complete before producing content for the radio station or the social media channels.

- b) Set out in detail below how the applicant intends to ensure that pre-recorded material will comply with Ofcom's codes and rules. Pre-recorded content could include, for example, material obtained from, or streamed from, third party sources as well as content produced by the licensee.

HEARTSONG LIVE RADIO will be making sure that all automated and pre-recorded shows and upcoming presenters will be properly vetted as we will request a sample show to be sent to us first and we can either accept or decline the show if it does not meet Ofcom standards.

We have vetted our current shows and all presenters are experienced in their field and understand the Ofcom policy.

Presenters will be listening in to each other's shows in order to prevent any breach of policy and any music that is found to be unsuitable for broadcasting will be highlighted by the presenter and will be removed immediately. There will be a vetting process of the music on the system to try and prevent this from happening, this is why we now have a dedicated volunteer who ensures our music is correctly vetted

- 4.7 Please set out how you will ensure ongoing compliance with your Key Commitments that relate to what you will broadcast on the station, including how you will monitor that these are being delivered e.g. who will be responsible for monitoring this, how often will they monitor it, how you ensure this information is published.

All presenters will be briefed on the procedures and ongoing training will be provided as well as presenters monitored on all levels.

We will also hold regular presenter training and quality control measures.

We will also have regular station meeting where all presenters will be kept up to date on all of the findings.

- 4.8 Please set out how you will ensure ongoing compliance with your Key Commitments that relate to the station's off-air social gain activities, including how you will monitor that these are being delivered e.g. who will be responsible for monitoring this, how often will they monitor it, how you ensure this information is published.

The responsible person, directors and experienced members of the team will ensure that compliance is met within our key commitments and will meet as a management team at least once a month to discuss how the community radio station is doing, and what it can do to better the station, and volunteers within it.

Our Programme Manager is responsible for ensuring that programming commitments are being kept to and will ensure that all output from the station is recorded and kept for a period of 42 days from the day of broadcast.

The station Manager and Program Manager have regular programme meetings and monitor the stations output and keep ongoing records of what the station has done to fulfil its commitments.

We keep records of our interviews that we have broadcast, and the files are logged for many of these programmes and then retained for archive purposes.

Community interviews will also be published on our website and be retained as part of the website archive to demonstrate how we have fulfilled our commitment.

4.9 What language(s) does the applicant intend to broadcast in?

Our output is 100% English speaking; however, we live in a very diverse area and will welcome individuals whose first language may not be English.

4.10 For each language listed in response to question 4.9 please provide details of how many compliance team member(s) are fluent in each language and will be responsible for ensuring that content broadcast in that language complies with the Ofcom's code and rules.
